buying bicycles and hacks outright, chartering yachts and treating newly-made friends to champagne suppers and engaging prise fighters to give exhibitions for the amusement of his newly found friends. While engaged in these actions he carries a valet and a soubrette who goes under the easy pseudonym of "Miss Smith."

When reports came from Galveston that young Davis was having a howing time there with $7,000,000 to his credit. New York's blass youths grew green with envy. In the first place they pronounced him most unwise to take to spend his money. In the up-town cluds his excapade was the all-absorbing topic of conversation. The talk turned to the old days when Howell Osborne, Squire Abingdon Baird and Max Lebaudy. "Little Sugar Bowl," tried to sei the world on fire.

Mr. Davis, with his valet and "Miss Smith." reached Galveston by steamer from New York four weeks ago and put up at the Tremont House. The money at once began to sizule and for a time it looked as though there would be a champagne famine in Galveston. The Smith. Teaching Galveston by a the from New York four weeks ago and put up at the Tremont House. The money at once began to size and tor a time it looked as though there would be a champagne faminer in Galveston. The "fizz" was sent up to young Davis's apartments by the case, but the pleberance for beer drawn from the pleberance for beer drawn from the wood and drank it from a hotel pitcher.

Davis then threw the hotel cierk into gervous prostration by presenting checks for $500 and $2,500. He wanted only a little pocket money he told the cierk and said for him to wire to the Davis bank of Davis, W. Va., or to his banker in Baltimore and ask if his credit was good. The reply came back, so Galveston reports, that Mr. Davis's drafts would be honored up to $7,500,600. Then the hotel cieck recovered and told him the house was his.

This, with the hysterics left out, is about the way the story came from Galveston, but Galveston will probably be shocked when the golden halo and the wreath of greenbacks which it has woven about young Davis's brow are ruthiessly removed. If he has left any creditors in Galveston they are 'in the soup,' to use the words of Fairfax's. Landstreet, secretary of the Davis Coal and Coke Company, who ripped the golden lining out of the story yesterday.

Mr. Landstreet, secretary of the Davis and to deny that he was a son of either Henry G. or Thomas B. Davis, the West Virginia. They practically control the output of bituminous coal from that state. The Davisea are million centred the coal mining district controlled by them.

Mr. Landscreet evidently took the whole matter as a good poke yesterday of the coal mining district controlled by them.

Mr. Landscreet evidently took the whole matter as a good poke yesterday as he told what he knew of Davis, with its one bank and 318 inhabitants, is the critically controlled by them.

as he told what he knew of Davis. He sold:

"W. R. Davis is only a distant relative of Henry G. and Thomas H. Davis. He is 26 years old anu an orphan, his faiher having been deady for nearly twenty years. He has been a ward of the family, and has been in the employ of the Davis Goal and Coke Company. The talk that he has $7,000,000 to his credit is all poppycock. I don't think he has $700, but he may have $500.

"He has been employed as a clerk or a bookkeeper out at Davis. Besides being a bright fellow he is a hard worker. He resigned his position about the first of August, saying the wanted a rest and was going tarpon fishing down south. If I remember rightly, he went about the middle of August to Galveston.

"I suppose he has been on a spree and got to fulking about his sich relatives down in Galveston. The story that he had untilmited credit is foolish. I am vice president of the bank at Davis, and had a dispatch from the cashler this morning denying that he was given credit up to $7,000,000. He had about $600 on deposit when he went away, but I suppose he has spent that by this time.

"If he owed any money when he left galveston his creditors are in the soup. I had a dispatch from him on Thursday saying that he would leave for New York the following day, so I guess he has finished his spree, and will be along here broke in a day or two."

And so the golden halo which the Galvestonians placed on the brow of W. R. Davis, of Davis, Tucker country, W. Va., is shattered.

WEDLOCK GUIDE. .

It is of interest to Unmarried Women

Uncle Sam has just issued a new publication in the interest of primarried wo-men. It might be called "The National Guide to Bachelors; a complete index for old maids and spinsters to the best places in the union for getting husbands; with maps, charts, etc., tells at a giance just where bachelors are most abundant."

abundant."

But though the publication has no such comprehensive title, it is just what such title would claim to be. The government calls it "Statistical Chart of Bachelors and Spinsters of the United States."

Bachelors and Spinsters of the United States."

The chart itself is a map printed in colors, and shows at a glance just in what localities bachelors are thickest, and in what regions spinsters are most dense per square mile.

In New York State, for example, there are at the present time 516,695 bachelors of 20 years and upward, while the number of spinsters in the state is 466,602. Between the ages of 10 and 24 there are 284,379 bachelors and 204,162 maidens. Between 10 and 25 there are 125,525 bachelors and 29,163 spinsters.

Hetween 20 and 34 there are 72,297 bachelors and 49,563 maidens. Between 25 and 44 there are 65,447 bachelors and 25,854 maidens. Between 55 and 44 there are 87,607 bachelors and 27,288 spinsters.

Between 55 and 64 there are 12,068 bachelors and 14,415 maidens. From 65 years upward there are 8,285 bachelors and 19,24 spinsters.

It will be observed that the bachelors in New York outnumber the unmarried women by 56 per cent.

years upward there are $.285 bachelors and 19.52 spinaters.

It will be observed that the bachelors in New York outnumber the unmarried women by 26 percent.

In New York city there are 18,343 bachelors and 123,365 spinaters, an overplus of 37,367 single men of 20 or over,

No large city in the United States has a supplus of spinaters. Baltimore comes neares: with only 65 more bachelors than old maids.

No state in the union has as many maidens as bachelors—not even Massachusetts, where the figures are 219,255 spinaters and 219,685 bachelors, Massachusetts is the banner state for maidens, the bachelors outnumbering them by only 2-10 of 1 per cent. Next comes Rhode Island, where the excess of bachelors is 2 per cent.

The excess of the bachelors in the District of Columbia is 8, per cent, in North Carolina 9 per cent, in Connective 20 per cent, in Maine 37 per cent, and in Vermont 54 per cent. In Maryland the bachelor surpais is 19 per cent, in New York it

A glance at the old maid's chart shows some surprising facts about surplus bachelors in some parts of the country. Idaho takes the lead as a desirable place of residence for women who want husbands, that state having 1,000 per cent more bachelors than spiniters. The exact figures are 18,534 single men against 1,425 single women, 20 years old and upward.

Wyoming is a close second, with an excess of 935 per cent, the figures being 18,133 bachelors, against 1,487 old maids. Best state for husbands—fdaho. Strongest bachelor section in the United States—southeastern.

In Kentucky there are 125,138 bachelors and 34,764 spinaters, and in the whole United States—southeastern.

Wheeling Business College, Moles's Business Academy, and Stevenson's School of Common and Higher Eng-lish and Mathematics.

We are pleased to announce to our friends and patrons that the above schools have combined for the purpose of establishing in Wheeling a splendid educational institution of unlimited scope.

Our object in forming this combination is two-fold.

First-We desire to have in Wheeling a school of which she has long felt the need. Second-We desire to offer to parents and guardians an institution that will fill their needs in every respect, and allow them to have their sons, daughters and wards under their own eyes while enjoying the advantages of a first-class Business, English and Classical education.

Every department is complete, and is pressided over by teachers of the highest order of ability. We solicit a most thorough inspection. Address.
